Capt. Webb in his letter from St. Helena to the Governor of the East India Company, says, "I have the loss of the ship by the Dutch Commodore from St. Helena, which was lost by him, and only one person was saved out of 120. She had on board, in silver on board, with a valuable cargo of spices, cloth, tin and arrack, computed in the whole at 120,000l."

June 16. Letters from Poland advise that the affairs of Courland appear every day more and more embarrassed, and that the differences that have arisen between the Duke and the greater part of the Nobility are such as to give rise to give room to expect the worst consequences.

Letters from Constantinople advise, that they have received advice from Mecca, that the Sheriff of that place is lately dead, and that they have reason to fear a revolution in Arabia Felix on that account. This Sheriff is, in some sort, the Chief of the Mahometan Religion. He governs at Mecca and its environs, and is greatly enriched by tributes from all the Mussulmen, Princes and Pilgrims that visit that city annually. The Grand Signior also annually sends to him a piece of cloth of gold of a large size, which is placed on the wall of the Holy House of Mecca.

Letters from France mention, that the Killings in Gutzene on account of the high price of bread still continues, and has extended to several other parts. The Mayor of the town of Alby has been killed in a riot at that place.

They write from the Hague, that the Imperial City of France is likely from the division among its inhabitants to fall into the hands of the Prussian Monarch, in the same manner as that of Danzig.

June 19. A letter from Hamburg, dated June 11, says, "After the amicable declarations which had been made by the Courts of Petersburg and Stockholm to maintain the harmony which subsisted between those two Courts, we thought we should have had nothing to fear; nevertheless, we have been rendered unhappy by the last letters from Petersburg, as they inform us that the Court had taken a Resolution, after the example of Denmark, to send a Squadron of observation into the Baltic, composed of 15 ships of the line and frigates, under the command of Rear Admiral Baskinell."

The town of Thorn in Polish Prussia has received a fresh summons to send deputies to Marienwerder to do homage to the King of Prussia for the lands they possess, under pain of seizure of them if they refuse.

The new French settlement on the southern side of the Cape of Good Hope is likely to prove a bone of contention between them and the Dutch, the latter of whom, it is said, have so strongly remonstrated as to insist on its being immediately abandoned.

June 25. Wednesday, as a sailor was going down White Chapel with a half-ancher of brandy, he was stopped by a Custom House Officer, who seized it. Jack solicited for its being returned, but without success. At last, after damming his hard fate, he asked for a dram at parting, which the Officer allowing to, Jack knocked out the bung, took a mouthful, quitted it in the Officer's eyes, and made off with his bag, to the no small diversion of the populace, and mortification of the Officer.

There is a Taylor now living at Hackney, of the age of 42, who is the youngest of 25 children, all living, the eldest of whom is 73, and their father, a gardener in Northumberland, is in good health, at the age of 109. Their grandfather died at 119.

June 26. Tuesday evening, the Jews Synagogue was illuminated, and ornamented within with flowers, &c. when the Jews all assembled, and prayed for his Majesty and the Royal Family, and sang several psalms, and an acrostic Ode on his Majesty, wrote on the occasion, accompanied with musical instruments, till 10 o'clock, when they went in procession from the Synagogue towards the Dock, each with a wax taper, singing God save the King, accompanied with musical instruments. The prayers continued every evening during his Majesty's stay.

This day arrived the mail from Flanders; but brings nothing material, excepting that the Russians, by their repeated successes, have cleared the banks of the Danube of the Turks, that a body of their light troops has been thereby enabled to advance up to the very walls of Constantinople.

At a Court of Common-hall, held at Guildhall, on the 15th of June, on a motion made by Mr. Alderman Sawbridge and seconded by Mr. Alderman Wilkes, the annual salary of the Recorder (Mr. Serjeant Glynn) was after debates, raised from 600 to 1000l. The principal reason given for this augmentation, was, that the business which used to require his attendance only 18 days, now required 80 or 90, with his whole time, so as to exclude him from any other business. The common-Serjeant's salary was also raised from 150 to 200l. per ann.

It was a matter of surprise, and remarked by many, that whereas it was usual on similar occasions to invite all the Nobility attending the King's levee, to dine with his Majesty, that neither the Dukes of Richmond, Dorset, and Devonshire, nor Lord Paget, were invited to dine with him at St. James's.

The path lately made with so much vigour and perseverance, against the Premier, has at last got over, and remains for the posterity at least, firm in its state. This is not to be ascribed to his own conduct, but to the force of his opposition. He is in a very delicate situation, the Government of the Court of Directors, and the Government at Chilli, both of which are in a state of great embarrassment, and the Premier is in a state of great embarrassment, and the Government of the Court of Directors, and the Government at Chilli, both of which are in a state of great embarrassment, and the Premier is in a state of great embarrassment.

It is reported that the cause and cure of the King of France's illness, was as follows: Madame Barre having asked a favour of him, which he did not name, he without hesitation granted it; when she requested his permission to see the naval review at Portsmouth; this, though he could not refuse, being very disagreeable to him, his Physicians were directed to report that he was dangerously ill of a putrid sore throat. She then having no pretence to leave him, with decency, laid aside the design, on which he presently recovered.

Extract of a letter from Aleppo, March 13. "We have just received letters from Cairo, of the 30th of January, which bring advice, that James Bruce, Esq; was lately arrived in this city from one of the most extraordinary voyages ever undertaken by an European, in which it has often been reported he had perished."

In December, 1768, he left Cairo, passing through Arabia Deserta, and Arabia Felix. He embarked on the Red Sea in August 1769, and in September arrived in a small island on the frontiers of Abyssinia. In November he gained an entrance into that jealous kingdom, and in February 1770, arrived at Gondar, the Capital. In November he visited those famous sources from whence the river Nile rises. Returning to Gondar, he signified himself to greatly in two battles gained by the King over his rebellious subjects, that he became so much in favour with that young Prince, as to be refused all his petitions to return; but his health declining daily, at length in January 1772, he was permitted to set out through Senaar. In November of that year he arrived at Barbar, the last inhabited part of that kingdom, and in 25 days crossed the great desert of Nubia. Here reduced to great distress, his camels all perished with cold, he was obliged to throw away all his drawings, papers, and instruments, and, destitute of every thing, arrived in December at a village near the cataracts at Assouan (Syenne.) Having got fresh camels, he again returned through the desert; and having retrieved all his papers, books, &c. he descended the Nile to Cairo; of the nine servants which entered Abyssinia with him, only one remaining alive.

"Mahomet, the reigning Bey of Cairo, deified out of curiosity to see him, after a long conversation, ordered him to be presented with a purse of sequins, covered with fruit and flowers, at the bottom of the stairs. Mr. Bruce took up one flower, and refusing absolutely the money, he was reconstituted to the Bey to give his reasons. I am, says he to the Bey, an Englishman, servant to a great King; it is not the custom in my country to receive pecuniary gratuities from foreign Princes, without the approbation of our sovereign. The Bey, still more than ever surprised, dismissed him with the greatest marks of distinction."

Extract of a letter from Sicily, May 27. "Two ships of war, and two frigates, now at Porto Farao, are sitting out directly against the Algerines, who already infest the coast. For some time past, one ship of 40 guns, two rebeques of 18 guns each, and one of 10 guns, with Algerine colours, have been cruising in sight of Leghorn, where they have already taken four Neapolitan vessels, and Genoese, and two feluccas belonging to Corsica; likewise a Dutch merchantman. In short, the Corsairs of Barbary infest the Sicilian coast so much, that no ships dare to put to sea, whether in amity with them or not."

Extract of a letter from Petersburg, May 27.

"Advices have just arrived here from the Russian fleet, in the Archipelago, that hostilities have been commenced some time with the Turks, especially in the Morea, where a Squadron of the Russian fleet have made several descents, and possessed themselves of some towns, forts, and other strong places. Several actions have likewise happened at sea, in which the Russians have always had the good fortune to prove victorious. The accounts from the Crimea, are still very disagreeable. The rebels increase daily."

Extract of a letter from Petersburg, June 16.

"Her Imperial Majesty has just dispatched orders to the Russian Commandant General at Astracan, in the kingdom of that name, and to the Governor of Circassia Tartary, at the city of Terki, to raise immediately a body of 10,000 men; they are to be disciplined for some time where they are raised, and are then to march for Bessarabia, where they are to be embodied, and from thence are to march as a reinforcement to Marshal Romanow's army. The Astracan and Circassian Tartars are deemed very good soldiers."

NEW YORK, September 2.

Stephen Barry, Esq; lately elected one of the Justices of the Peace, is a native of New York, was educated at Princeton College, in New Jersey, and in the year 1765, received the honorary Degree of M. A. at Harvard College. He resided for about a year in the city of New York, and always maintained a respectable character. In England his behaviour and abilities recommended him to good business, and to the highest respects of a numerous acquaintance among persons of distinction and eminence. He became a partner in business with Dennis De Bert, Esq; late Agent for the colony of the Massachusetts Bay, and assisted that Gentleman in his advanced age in the business of his Agency; and since his death, upon application made, obtained for his services, leave for signing a grant of 14,000l. sterling, which passed the General Court the last session. He has for several years acted with great spirit, judgment and integrity in the cause of liberty; and distinguished himself in the Middlesex election, and the business of the Printers, as a zealous friend of freedom. He is now the acting partner in a considerable Banking house in Oxford Street London, and was strongly recommended to the Sheriffalty, by the Supporters of the Bill of Rights. He has been a considerable and able writer in the cause of freedom, and is supposed to be the author of many, if not all the pieces published in the London papers under the signature of JUNIUS AMERICANUS.

Mr. Barry never was married to a daughter of Mr. De Bert, as was erroneously mentioned in the papers, nor had any family connection with him.

BALTIMORE, August 28. Extract of a letter from Shippenburgh, in Pennsylvania, to a Gentleman in this Town, dated August 6, 1773.

"I received a letter last night from Mr. David Duncan, at the Lower Shawanese town, dated the 17th of last month, advising me, that the trade in the woods seems to be in a very precarious and difficult situation. A body of Indians, of the Mingoe Tribe, having murdered two of Captain Thompson's people, and robbed them of a number of horses, at a little Mingoe town, below the Shawanese towns, as they were on their way to the mouth of Scioto, where they were to meet Capt. Thompson. There were four men with the horses. The two who escaped are with Mr. Duncan, at the lower town. Mr. Duncan further informs me, that the same Mingoes have taken a canoe loaded with goods, supposed to be either Mr. Spear's or Mr. Joseph Lindsey's; but it appears most likely to be the property of the latter, as he intended to go up the Scioto, and the canoe was taken on that creek. Mr. Spear's canoe was to go by way of the Wabash, which is a very considerable distance lower down."

We hear from Frederick town, that at the court held there, a few days ago, the four convict servants, who lately barbarously murdered their master, Mr. Hoffman, late of this town, received sentences of Death.

BOSTON, August 26.

A canoe, on Thursday the 25th instant, crossing the river at Needham, overset with seven people in her, five of whom were drowned, viz. Joseph Rose, and two sons, one of 12 years old, and the other of about 11; two young men belonging to Colonel Goldthwait, viz. Benjamin Chandler, and James Dunn, about 20 years old each. The other two with much difficulty, were saved.

A few days before this, a Squaw was drowned, near the same place, in going across the river in a birch canoe.

About the same time, two canoes, of Indians were hunting Moose in the night, at usual, at this season of the year; and being in pursuit of one, which swimming at a small distance from the headmost canoe, an Indian in the other, taking that canoe to be the Moose, fired and killed one of his companions, whose name was Brown, the likeliest Indian in the Penobscot Tribe. As soon as he was dead, the other Indians cut off one of his hands, and smoked it, in order to preserve it, to carry to their Chief in Canada; according to their custom, on accidental deaths.

CHARLESTOWN, June 18.

The Congress holden at Augusta in Georgia, between the Cherokee and Creek Indians on the one part, and his Excellency Sir James Wright, Bartonet, and the Honourable John Stuart, Superintendent of Indian Affairs for his Majesty, on the other part, was concluded the first day of this month, when the said Indians ceded a very considerable territory to his Majesty for the payment of the debts owing by them to the traders.

The cession of the new boundary line between his Majesty's province of Georgia, and the Indian hunting grounds, as agreed upon and settled at the congress above-mentioned, is as follows:

"The boundary line is to begin where the lower creek path intersects the river Ogeechee, from thence to extend along the main branch of the said river to the source of the southernmost branch of the same, and from the said source along the ridge between the waters of Broad River and Okone River, as high up as the Buffalo Lick, and from the said Lick in a straight line to the tree marked by the Cherokee, near the head of the branch falling into the Okone River, and from thence along the said ridge twenty miles above the line already run by the Cherokee and from the said line across to Savannah River, by a line parallel with that formerly marked by the same Indians."

At the same Congress the Lower Creeks for their nation ceded to his Majesty a very valuable territory, by extending the boundary line between their hunting grounds and the province of Georgia, as follows:

"A new line beginning at the present boundary at Pinhook Creek on the river Alsatama, to extend up the said river to an Island therein, opposite to the mouth of Barber Creek, and from thence across to the river Ogeechee, opposite to the road, about four miles above Buckhead, where a canoe ferry used to be kept."

The Negotiations at the congress were carried on with much cordiality between the Governor and Superintendent. The Cherokee and Creek Indians differed greatly at first, and seemed ready to come to blows with each other. They afterwards conferred together and agreed to a mutual consideration of the grant of lands; but perseverance in demanding the same quantity they had originally offered, and spirited answers to their refractory speeches, brought about acknowledgments from them of a happy conclusion to the whole affair, which has exceeded the most sanguine expectations of every person concerned.

Sir James Wright has already had applications from, and in behalf of, upwards of two thousand families who desire to become settlers on the ceded lands. Two thirds of the whole is deemed prime, and the price talked of is three shillings sterling in the acre, which will raise a great sum. The new cession will, it is said, render the lands on the western frontiers of this province more valuable, by forming a barrier of a well peopled country between them and the Creek hunting grounds.

His Excellency Governor Martin of North Carolina, has issued a proclamation, requiring the immediate payment of his Majesty's quitrents, in that province; and two others requiring the payment of the provincial taxes to the sheriffs, and the duties on rum, wine, &c. to the several collectors of those duties. It seems the people of North Carolina entertained a notion, that the King intended to remit all arrears of quit-rents, for which report the Governor says there is not the least foundation, and flattered themselves that the Sheriffs, &c. were not authorised to receive taxes.

June 25. As soon as the cession of lands to his Majesty was made at the late congress at Augusta by the Cherokee and Creek Indians for the payment of the debts due by them to the traders, and contracted since the year 1761, the said traders executed, under their hands and seals, the general release and discharge to the said nations of Indians, and another writing or discharge against any claim on the Crown or on the Province of Georgia on account of their debts or demands against the Indians aforesaid, declaring themselves fully contented and satisfied to take their chance of being paid whatever may appear to be due to them, respectively, by and out of the monies which may arise from the sale of the ceded lands, after defraying the expenses of the congress and such other charges and expenses as will necessarily arise in carrying the measure into execution; and if there should happen to be a deficiency, they further consent and agree to abate in proportion to the sum or sums that may be due to them, as the same shall be settled by and with the Governor and Council of the province of Georgia appointed by his Majesty to settle their several claims.

The Honourable John Stuart, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, communicated to the Indians assembled at the late congress at Augusta, the design of establishing a new Government on the Ohio, and his Majesty's gracious attention to the interest of the Indians, in restricting the patentees from making any settlements on the lands reserved to the Cherokee by the treaty concluded by the Superintendent for his Majesty, with those Indians in the year 1760; and by directing that the said lands shall remain wholly unsettled and unoccupied, agreeably to the said treaty. The Indians expressed the most grateful sense of the royal care extended to them, and departed to their own country well satisfied, and in very good temper.

On Saturday last an unfortunate accident happened here in the yard of a public house in Queen street, a man from the country took up an old market, that had been shown by as useless for a considerable time, and to try if the lock was good for any thing put in some priming, when the musket, being loaded with ball, went off and killed a white child on the opposite side of the street. The Coroner's inquest brought in their verdict Chance Medley. The man is committed to jail in order to take his trial at the next Court of General Sessions.

On Sunday last the ship Friendship, William Maine master for Newbury Port in New England, in her way to the bar, struck on the North Breaker, beat over it, and immediately after bilged on the shoal called Noman's Land, where she went to pieces. Happily no lives were lost.

WILLIAMSBURG (Virginia) August 19.
This Day died Mr. WILLIAM RINE, Printer to the Colony, after a tedious illness. He was a Gentleman of a very amiable Character, being a tender Husband, a kind Parent, an indulgent Master, and a faithful Servant of the Publick.

[It is said that some leading Members of the General Assembly, had assured Mrs. Rine that in Case of the Death of her Husband, who has long been in a Decline, she should have their Interest in having the publick Business continued to her.]

PHILADELPHIA, August 25.
On Wednesday morning last arrived here, to the Judges of the Supreme Court, an express from Morris County, New Jersey, by whom we learn, that one of the persons lately tried and executed at Amboy, for coining dollars, and other offences, gave information of several others concerned; on which, writs were issued, and Samuel Haynes, ————, Esqrs. Benjamin Cooper, Esqrs. Dr. ————, Captain Joseph Morris, and David Reynolds, all of Morris County, were immediately secured, and by accounts since received, four of them have received sentences of death for counterfeiting Jersey money. The purpose of the express was to bring an affidavit against Capt. Joseph Richardson, of this province, for counterfeiting the paper money of this colony; in which the Sheriff's officers were dispatched to apprehend him, but he kept them off from his house, in which he was locked up, till night, when he made his escape out of a back window. It is much to be wished that every one would use their endeavours to destroy this knot of rogues, whose business it has been these three or four years, to counterfeit the various kinds of gold, silver, and paper money we have among us.

On Monday the 16th instant, Master Phineas Smith, about 64 years of age, 4th son of the Rev. Doctor Smith, was unhappily drowned, near one of the wharfs of this city, not having been many minutes gone from home before the account of his death was brought back. His clothes were found in the stern of a boat carefully wrapped together, with the shoes in the pockets. He was seen by some Children just as he was going to sink, but too late to save him. His body could not be found till Thursday last, when it was taken up on the Jersey shore, and afterwards interred in Christ Church burying ground. His father who received the account of his death at Lancaster, returned just in time to see him laid in the ground.

August 20. Yesterday arrived in town from New York, where they landed from England, the Hon. John Penn, Esq; and his Lady.

Extract of a Letter from the Bay of Honduras, to a Gentleman in this city, July 1.
"I am deified by Mrs. Deakin to acquaint you of the death of her husband, who was most cruelly murdered in bed in the night of the 26 ult. by a gang of disaffected negroes, who rose against the white people, and committed several most barbarous murders, and still continue in open rebellion, notwithstanding every possible endeavour has been used to suppress them. This is a loss truly affecting to Mrs. Deakin, and sincerely regretted by the friends of Mr. Deakin."

Extract of a letter from the Bay of Honduras, June 19.

"The continuance of the rebellion amongst the Negroes here, has got to such a height as to occasion an express being sent to Jamaica for assistance. Trade is quite suspended, and a total stop put to every kind of business, nor can it possibly be renewed till the rebels are subdued."

The Honourable the General Assembly of this colony, met here last week, when the Honourable Metcalf Bowler, Esq; of the Lower House, read letters from the speakers of the Assemblies of a number of the other colonies, concerning with themselves, &c. lately entered into by the House of Burgesses of Virginia.

NEW-YORK, September 3.
Last Sunday afternoon departed this Life, in the 51st Year of his age, Mr. Samson Simons, an Israelite indeed (in whom unfeigned Reverence for the Supreme Being, Integrity of Heart, and Humanity, are Characteristic.) Kind and tender, he was a Comfort to his aged Parents and Brethren; liberal in his Principles, sensible, cheerful, and friendly. He was highly esteemed by a large Circle of Friends and Acquaintance of various denominations. His Knowledge in Trade was extensive, always upright in his dealings, he supported the Character of a Merchant with much Credit; he was a useful Member of Society in general, particularly to that wherewith he was more intimately connected; and a real Friend to the Liberties of his Country.

On Friday the 13th ult. at Fairfield, in Connecticut, departed this Life, after a short distressing illness, with the Gout in his Stomach, the Reverend Mr. Joseph Lamson, a Missionary from the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in foreign Parts, in the 56th Year of his Age, and 26th of his Ministry in that Church. He was a Gentleman of an unblemished Character, zealous for true Religion, and of an exemplary Life. His funeral Solemnity was attended by a respectable Audience, to whom an excellent Sermon was preached by the Reverend Mr. Leaming, of Norwalk, on these Words, Luke 19. XIII. Occupy till I come.

We are assured, that Mr. Sauthier, and Mr. Collins, were to set out from Quebec, the second Week in this Month, in order to complete the Line of Partition of New York, and Quebec Governments, between the Rivers Connecticut, and St. Lawrence, in the 45th Degree of North Latitude.

About two Months ago, died at the Bay of Honduras, of a Wound he received in a Scuffle with Mr. Hugh Murtry, of that Place, Mr. John Armstrong, formerly of this City: The Affair happened in the Night, and no Person being present, Murtry was sent to Jamaica to take his Trial.

Thursday last, the Honourable John H. Cruger, Esq; was sworn one of his Majesty's Council, for this Province, in the Room of his Father the Honourable Henry Cruger, Esq; resigned.

Pittsburgh, July 16 The Design of forming a new Government on the Ohio, has excited a very alarming Jealousy among the Western Indians: Belts have been sent to the five Nations, and all the Indian Settlements in those Parts; however we cannot find that they have been accepted by any but our old inveterate Enemies, the Shawanese, and Delaware; the Differences among themselves having hitherto prevented their Union against us; but at the utmost Endeavour are still used to kindle a general Indian War, and they are all determined upon opposing every Measure that may further the Approaches of our Settlements to their Territories; the work is still to be apprehended from them, especially after the getting in of their Harvest shall leave them at Leisure for Mischief: It, therefore, behoves every Province to guard against the dreadful Effects of their Enmity, for which, they have unhappily, too much Cause.

Sunday last, the Brig John, Capt. Joseph Montany, arrived from Africa, but left from South Carolina, in 14 Days; on his Passage, he spoke with the following Vessels, viz. June 16, in Lat. 12. 7. Gibby, the former Capt. Humphrey Warden, died on the Passage. Capt. Tyne and Capt. Miller, arrived at Philadelphia, bring Papers as late as the 9th of July.

Alderman Plover had resigned being Sheriff, and Dr. Lee of Virginia, chosen on a Sloop.

The Philadelphia Packet, Capt. Hallock was ordered from this Place at Liverpool. The Earl of Danmore, Captain Lawrence was ordered off the 1st of Wight, in 30 Days. Yesterday about three o'clock in the Afternoon suddenly came a Cloud, from whence we had some Lightning and Thunder, with a smart Shower of Rain intermixed with Hail Stones resembling in shape broken pieces of Ice; or rather several Hail Stones congealed together in irregular Forms and sizes, some of them as large as 5 or 6 Swan Shot glued together; but there being little or no Wind they fell almost perpendicularly, so that the Windows received no damage.

On Friday last departed this Life in her 23 year, Miss Susannah Finley, Daughter of the Rev. Doctor Finley late President of New Jersey College; and on Saturday Evening her remains were deposited in the old Presbyterian Church in this city, where a pathetic Address, particularly to young people, was delivered by the Rev. Doctor Rogers. In every Character she sustained in Life, this young Lady acted with such Propriety and Decorum, as made her an amiable Pattern to the younger Part of her Sex, not only in the Duties of this Life, but Preparations for the next, in which she sedulously employed her Time, and was enabled to discover the most perfect Resignation during a long and tedious illness, to with for the Hour of Dissolution, and meet even the King of Terrors with Fortitude and Composure.

In Hopes of Glory to be quite involv'd, To smile at Death! to long to be dissolv'd! From our Decays, a Pleasure to receive! And kindle into Transport at a Grave! What equals this? Young.

Yesterday arrived the Brig St. George, Capt. Daniel Moore in 15 Days from Hispaniola, on his Passage the 28th August, in Lat. 37 30, he spoke with a Ship from Glasgow bound to Maryland, 7 Weeks out; the same Day, he spoke with a Brig from St. Kitts bound to Philadelphia; the 30th, he spoke with a Brig from Jamaica, bound to Rhode Island.

Mr. Timothy Soper, the Mate of Capt. Moore, informs, that on the 28th of April last, the Sloop ———— Capt. Fairly of this place, put into Hispaniola in distress, that the Spaniards immediately seized the Vessel and Cargo, and after plundering the Capt. and his People, carried them to the prison, and put them in Irons, where they all remain in close Confinement, except the above Timothy Soper, who was then Capt. Fairly's Mate, and made his Escape the 4th of August.

To-morrow Morning at 7 o'clock, the 23 Gentlemen appointed Governors of the New-York Hospital, are to wait on his Excellency Governor Tryon, at the Fort, in order to attend him to Rensselaer, where the Hospital is to be erected, to see him lay the first Stone, and assist in laying the Foundation of that truly charitable Asylum of the Distressed, who will have Reason to remember with Gratitude, and bless the benevolent Founders, through a long Succession of future Generations.

We hear, that Dr. GRAHAM, Oculist, and Aurist, who intended to have left this City yesterday Morning, is prevailed upon to remain one Week longer, in order to complete, if possible, some most important Cures he is now engaged in, and to afford what Assistance may be in his Power, to some blind and deaf Individuals, among the many Hundreds who have applied to him, in Consequence of the amazing and unprecedented Success which hath distinguished his Practice, but through extreme multiplicity of Business have not hitherto been attended to. The Doctor expresses the greatest Desire and Willingness, to stay in this City some Months longer, and is sorry that his Engagements to the Inhabitants of the southern Provinces, and his Affairs in England obliged him positively to leave this City next Wednesday Morning; a Departure which will in a great Measure, preclude him from resuming that pecuniary Harvest, which his peculiar Skill and the Cures he hath performed so justly entitled him to.

MR. September, to open his Dancing-School, for the ensuing season, at his rooms in King-Street. In the house lately occupied by Capt. Alexander M'Donald; on the same plan, terms, and rules, which have been heretofore presented to the public, and may now be seen at that place.

The advantages which many of his scholars received, in the course of a short tuition, give him the pleasing expectations, that their parents will indulge him with their good offices in his behalf. Mr. Hoar, in a particular manner, wishes that the young gentlemen of this city, from a number of whom, he has already experienced many acts of friendship, may know that he has procured from London, a capital master, in the science of defence, as a proper management of the single rapier, who will assist him in that department, at the time appropriated for the teaching of so valuable an accomplishment; which, with the terms, will hereafter be made known.

Centel apartments to be let, at the above house.

POET'S CORNER.
The Consolator of True Religion.
O! blest Religion, heavenly fair!
Thy hand, thy healing power,
Can soothe the pain, alleviate the care,
And give each gloomy hour
When dismal Thoughts, and boding Fears,
The trembling Heart invade;
And all the Face of Nature wears
An universal shade.
Thy sacred Dignities can soothe
The Tempest of the Soul,
And every Fear, shall lose its Rage,
At thy divine Control.
Thro' Life's bewild'ring darksome Way,
Thy Hand unerring leads;
And o'er the Path, thy heavenly Ray,
A cheering Lustre sheds.
When feeble Reason, tired and blind,
Sinks hapless and afraid;
Thou, blest Supporter of the Mind,
How powerful is thy Aid!
O let my Heart confess thy Power,
And find thy sweet Relief,
To brighten every gloomy Hour,
And soften every Grief.

A VERY curious and uncommon FISH, the like never seen here before. It was taken yesterday in our harbour, with a hook, and in shape has some resemblance of a shark:—From the head or nose, it has a broad flat, thin horizontal projection, like wings, extending each way, about double as much as the thickness of the body.—The eyes, which are large, are placed in the extremities of these wings.—The fish has several other curious singularities, which will be better known by being seen than by description.

VICISSITUDE and adverse fortune, are the portions of mortality; and experience proves that no class of men are more subject to them than merchants. The judicious and benevolent of them, whom Providence hath continued in affluent circumstances, altho' they may not know by experience, the distressing reflections to which the mind of an honest bankrupt is subject, from the change of his circumstances, and the wants of his family; yet they can anticipate them. It is therefore hoped that these considerations—the benevolent purpose to which the profit of this lottery is to be applied—and the advantageous nature of the scheme, will induce the Public in general, and the Merchants in particular, to encourage it. The drawing will certainly commence at Powles Hook, about the middle of October next, under the inspection and management of Gentlemen of known integrity and understanding. A list of the fortunate numbers will be published for the information of the adventurers, in hand-bills; and the prizes will be punctually paid, subject to the deduction of 15 per cent. by Messrs. Smith Ramage, Archibald Currie, Patrick M'Davitt, and Thomas Stewart, Merchants, in New-York. And as a number of Gentlemen of influence and extensive acquaintance, have engaged to assist Mr. Dunlap in the sale of the tickets, there is no doubt but the drawing will commence at that time. Orders left with Mr. Dunlap, will be carefully forwarded. Timely notice will be given where the tickets are to be purchased in the neighbouring provinces.
